

Bilingual (English and Spanish) Qualitative Health Policy Researcher

L&M Policy Research, LLC, is seeking motivated candidates for a mid-level Bilingual (English and Spanish) Health Policy Researcher position in Washington, DC. L&M is a highly collaborative and collegial boutique health services research firm dedicated to improving health care in the United States. We bring extensive experience in qualitative and quantitative research methods to support federal, state, and private clients with health policy evaluation, health communication research, health services management, and operations support. The position offers an excellent opportunity for candidates with qualitative research skills and a health policy background who share our passion for health care and want to be part of a collaborative and dynamic organization.

Responsibilities

- Work collaboratively with project teams comprised of senior and junior staff to conduct and support a range of qualitative research studies
- Lead and collaborate with junior research staff in writing, revising, and executing research protocols for qualitative research
- Conduct primary data collection with health care consumers in Spanish and English, including key informant interviews, focus groups, in-depth interviews
- Synthesize findings to present results and produce project reports, project proposals, and share results with the company and clients
- Lead the writing, revising, and submitting project deliverables

Minimum Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree or Master's degree in social sciences or related field plus 3 to 5 years of relevant experience
- Experience conducting focus groups and in-depth interviews in Spanish and English a bonus
- Understanding of health care financing and strong interest in health policy research
- Native Spanish speaker (expert/near-native speakers would be considered) and equal fluency in Spanish and English is required
- Ability to work autonomously on tasks and as part of a small or large team
- Exemplary organizational, verbal, and written communication skills
- Capacity to plan, organize, and prioritize staff working with multiple projects
- Must be a thoughtful leader with excellent mentoring skills

Other considerations

- This position requires travel within the U.S.
- Availability to work remotely or on a hybrid schedule
- Individuals with temporary visas or who need sponsorship for work authorization now or in the future are not eligible for hire
